Contribution by Colby Collier, James Lundeen, Michelle Delgado. Produced by Wanda Marrs, Texe Marrs. An Iron Beast has risen to devour America & the whole earth, to tread it down & break it in pieces. This program presents massive, irrefutable evidence that our once, great country has already been turned over to the Adversary. Foreign troops from 27 separate nations - Russia, Germany, Ukraine, France, Britain, Slovenia, Hungary, Turkey, Lithuania, Red China & others - are in training on American soil. U. S. military advisors are preparing these foreign occupiers to raid & destroy American towns & cities, to confiscate weapons & to arrest dissidents & resister. Foreign military tanks, armored vehicles, chemical/biological munitions & fighter aircraft are in place in America, ready for action. We are now a nation under siege. Treason reigns. Can an outroar & a tremendous cry of protest by concerned citizens & patriots stem this rising tide of evil? Can we thwart the goals of the Illuminati elite? Discover what the Bible says about the "Sting of the Iron Beast". RiverCrest Publishing. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-9667421-6-9(8), UPC: 9780966742169) $24.95.

Stories That Matter, Stories That Move: A Collection of Short Films by Peter H. Reynolds, Based on a story by Peter H. Reynolds. 30 mins. (Narrated: French, Spanish). Video Released Dec. 2004. Directed by Gary Goldberger. Animated by John Lechner, Peter H. Reynolds, Matt Ducharme. After journeying around the world in the festival circuit for the last several years, we're happy to make the first FableVision "Stories that Matter" animated film collection available on DVD. The short films include Peter H. Reynolds' inspirational stories The Blue Shoe and Living Forever, as well as our new animated short He Was Me. He Was Me - Written and drawn by Peter H. Reynolds, He Was Me is a quiet story about the inner child in all of us, and the eternal struggle to retain our sense of self in a busy world. In the film, as a man waits at a bus stop in the rain, his inner child is brought poignantly to life as he reflects on his past and ponders his future As Peter shares, "This is a gift to you - to educators and caregivers. My hope is that if we can all remember what it is like to be a child, we will be able to listen to the children around us better - to serve them better. If children see that we have not lost our own child spirit, they'll be more likely to join the learning party." Peter's longtime collaborator John Lechner directed the film, which includes a touching musical score by Tony Lechner. Approx. running time: 3 minutes The Blue Shoe - The award-winning short film about a blue shoe in search of her "sole mate." The Blue Shoe is a gentle fable which can be used in primary grades to discuss true friendship. Excellent for higher grades to spark meaningful conversations about diversity and tolerance, as well as metaphor and story. This original story, written by FableVision's own Peter H. Reynolds, has won awards in over 40 festivals around the world! BONUS: French and Spanish versions of this film are also included on the DVD! Approx. running time: 6 minutes each (18 min. total for all three languages) Living Forever - Living Forever is Peter H. Reynolds' story of a young boy seeking the artist who inspired him. The boy has a gift for his mentor, which can only be delivered in person; a gift that will ultimately change both of their lives, and the way they each see the world. Dedicated to author/illustrator William Steig who has been one of Peter's sources of inspiration on his own life journey. Approx. running time: 5 minutes. FableVision Pr. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-891405-14-3(4)) $19.95.

Henderson, Tom Henderson, Wayne Schow, Sandra Schow, Michael Bussee, Tom Potter, Katie Potter, Roscoe Thorne, Pat Thorne, Tracy Thorne, Sandra Washington-Blackhouse, Sharon Washington, Mildred Washington. Directed by Dee Mosbacher, Frances Reid. Composed by Mary Watkins. Narrated by Robert McAfee Brown. Examines the issues parents face in coming to terms with having & gay or lesbian child. It presents simple stories about real people: a police chief who talks about how proud he is of his lesbian daughter; a Mormon family whose son is believed to be the first gay man in Idaho to have died from AIDS &, a black woman & her two lesbian daughters who had been accused of "catching" their lesbian predilections from white people. Perhaps one of the most moving segments revolves around Dr. Roscoe Thorne & his son Tracy; the naval aviator who was drummed out of the military in 1993 after admitting that he is homosexual. Producers Dee Mosbacher & Frances Reid present a moving account of parents' struggles with homophobia as they journey to new understanding of the children they love. Motivational Media. VHS. Sue Thomas: Breaking the Sound Barrier. Color. 60 MINS mins. CC Video Released Jun. 2003. You know of her through the TV series ?Sue Thomas: F.B.Eye.? Now here is the rest you didn?t know, and her story is sure to capture a place in your heart. When only 18 months, Sue suffered a total loss of hearing. Her parents determined to help her become part of the ?hearing world,? so they enrolled her in a special school where she learned to speak and read lips. At age seven, Sue became the youngest ever Ohio State Champion free-style skater. Later she took up trumpet and piano and became an accomplished classical pianist. Sue?s parents taught her that with God?s help, she could accomplish anything. After college and graduate school, Sue was hired by the FBI. Her outstanding ability to read lips led to work in undercover surveillance as dramatized in the popular television series, ?Sue Thomas: F.B.Eye.? Sue?s role is played by Deanne Bray, who is also a deaf woman.Despite her success with the FBI, Sue felt something still was missing. Following further graduate studies, she had a burning desire to proclaim the love and forgiveness of God, which she does as a speaker nationally before civic, professional and church groups. She is interviewed regularly on television and radio. She has also authored her best selling autobiography, ?Silent Night.? When not on the road speaking, Sue lives in Ohio with her golden retriever.But Sue's amazing story does not end there. She has been diagnosed with the debilitating illness Multiple Sclerosis that affects her mobility and vision. Yet she meets this challenge head-on as she has every

Summer with Selik. 122 mins mins. Video Released Dec. 2004. An enchanting story of the relationship between a teenage Norwegian girl named Katrine and a newborn harbor seal. It was filmed by the renowned Norwegian nature and wildlife filmmaker, Trygve Berge, along the visually spectacular western coast of Norway. Each year, a few seal pups are left orphaned off the rocky Norwegian coastline. When Katrine finds a two-day-old baby seal alone on a tiny island of rock, she rescues it from certain death, brings it to her home and names him Selik. What follows is a bittersweet tale of adventure, laughter, and tears. The bond that develops between Katrine and Selik during the seal's recuperation is all the more poignant because Katrine knows she must return Selik to the open sea once he is healthy and strong and has learned to survive in the wild.The charming sequel SELIK & KATRINE, takes place the following summer, when Katrine's interest in seals and wildlife leads to an offer of a summer job at the local seaquarium. While collecting marine samples with Simon, and Mats, young boys from the neighborhood, she sees Selik close inshore - and realizes that he is living among the inner skerries close to her island home. Soon after, she hears that Selik has been raiding the fishermen's lobster pots and she fears he could be shot by hunters. It is the hunting season and Selik, now a fully grown adult seal, should be living far out to sea.Curious as ever, Selik revisits the house and garden at Teistklubben, as if recalling the first three months of his life there. For a while, Katrine and the two boys are amused by the seal's antics - but Katrine is aware that the situation cannot continue. She resolves to return Selik to the outer skerries eight miles offshore. To do that, she must first study the big seal colonies there - and determine whether the other seals will accept Selik.SELIK & KATRINE features superb diving sequences in the clearest waters in Northern Europe, with Selik the seal and the mischievous young Mats vying for the hearts of the audience. Janson Media. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56839-267-7(2), Order #: 20316, UPC: 646032031690) $24.95.

Sun Salutations, 1 disc. 75 mins. NR. Video Released Mar. 2006. Author Shiva Rea. Yoga's "sun salutations" are among the most refined movement meditations for health and well-being ever created. Originally practiced in honor of the sun's vitality and our own essential life force, this precise combination of forward bends, backbends, and inversions is believed to promote circulation and inner balance by arousing the energy of Shakti - the creative fire of the universe. With inspiring instruction in basic alignment and flowing variations, Sun Salutations includes: classical sun salutations with mantras to honor solar vitality for a meditative practice for all levels, Surya Namaskar A and B from the Ashtanga tradition to build the basic vocabulary of strength and flexibility, rhythmic vinyasa: up-tempo sun salutations to emphasize core alignment through sensory motor patterning and rhythmic movement, and Four Dancing Warrior variations; "create-your-own" shavasana (relaxation) practice; and much more. Supercharge Your Client's Retirement Planning with 412(i) Fully Insured Plans. Color. 120 mins. mins. Video Released Apr. 2004. Instructed by Stephen Toth. Searching for an effective retirement vehicle for risk-averse clients who are also babyboomers with few years left to fund their nest eggs? 412(i) defined benefit plans could be the perfect solution for this growing segment of the population. And for those that qualify - primarily high-income owners of small businesses - 412(i) plans offer a world of benefit. Now - the leading expert in these fully insured new plans, Stephen Toth, presents a comprehensive look at how 412(i) plans can deliver guaranteed future retirement benefits, and huge current tax deductions. It's a perfect combination for successful entrepreneurs who are also market-shy after the recent volatility has wreaked havoc with their portfolio value.Retirement planning specialist Stephen Toth's comprehensive new workshop provides an in-depth look at these unique products. Clear, concise and to-the-point, Toth walks you through every facet and "need-to-know" component, including:?Identifying the ideal candidates for 412(i) defined benefit plans?Comparison of 412(i) plans with other types of qualified plans?Benefits of 412(i) plans relative to traditional defined benefit plans ?Strategies for disbursing plan assets at retirement?Funding requirements, maximum deductions for contributions, vesting details, sources for 412(i) plans ?and significantly more.Another key benefit of 412(i) plans: They must be funded with either 100% fixed annuities or a combination of fixed annuities and whole life insurance, so they make a great sense for commission-based financial advisors as well. Surface Interval Virtual Dives. Color. 58 mins. Home, Non-Profit. Video Released Dec. 2001. Music by Sugo Music Design Staff. Photographer Judith E. Brown. Produced by Judith E. Brown. Surface Interval Virtual Dives, Volume 1 showcases a sampling of sea life commonly observed while scuba diving in three geographic regions. The four videos on the tape are created with children and busy adults in mind. Unlike other wildlife videos set to music, each video is 8 to 17 minutes long and assumes that the viewer has either little time or a short attention span; consequently, scenes progress rapidly (on average, every 7 ? 10 seconds) with the richly textured music complementing the movements of the subjects. Behavior sequences run longer. None of the scenes depict predatory or other potentially disturbing animal behaviors. JB Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-9715468-0-6(0)) $19.99.

Suspended Animation: Primeval Shrimps & the Art of Survival. (1999). Fishes. Color. 44 mins. Public performance. Produced by Gunther Bludszuweit, ORCA Naturfilmproduktion, Ilona Riehl. For more than 200 million years primeval shrimps (Branchiopods) have survived, essentially unchanged, all over the world, almost like living fossils. Though they are unusual & colorful in appearance, hardly anyone has noticed them. Their survival strategy seems like science fiction. They seem to have perfected the art of suspended animation. In perfect adaptation to temporary freshwater ponds or salt lakes, they have developed resting eggs that contain an embryo. These eggs remain viable for decades, perhaps even millennia. The embryo manages to survive without any metabolism. Extreme heat & cold have no effect. How can these seemingly dead embryos prevent decay? What switches them on to life again? Filled with spectacular macrophotograpy, this documentary illustrates the life cycle of Branchiopods. Three years in the making it was shot all over Europe & in the Great Salt Lake in Utah. Bullfrog Films, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56029-812-0(X)) $250.00, Rental 75.00.

Swallows & Amazons Forever! Coot Club. Color. 90 mins. Home. G. Video Released Jun. 2005. Coot Club and its companion story, The Big Six, are based on the celebrated Swallows & Amazons series of childrens' books written by Arthur Ransome. For anyone who loves sailing and adventure, the Arthur Ransome classics stand alone. Set in the '30s, both stories take place on the lakes and waterways of England, and feature the same cast of lively characters, led by six children, who become firm friends, sharing a love of wildlife and all things nautical. The fun and adventure of a life afloat sparkle off the screen. These movies were produced on location in England by the BBC.Coot ClubDick and Dot have to be taught the art of sailing, because they are spending their first holiday afloat with Mrs. Barrable. On hand is the doctor's son, Tom, and a pair of twins that are such expert sailors they are nicknamed Port and Starboard. The adventure begins with the "Hullabaloos," a party of noisy holidaymakers on the river who are damaging the riverbanks and wildlife. Tom is forced to free their boat from its mooring to save a coot's nest. Then, Tom, Dick and Dot, joined later by the twins, sail south on a cruise. Will the Hullabaloos catch up with them?. Taggart - Death Call Set. Color. 390 mins. (British Detective Ser.). Video Released Feb. 2006. Mark McManus, Neil Duncan, Harriet Buchan, Robert Robertson, Iain Anders, Tom Watson, James Macpherson. Detective Chief Inspector Jim Taggart is a tough, sarcastic copper who has come up the hard way in the Maryhill Police Department. When he's out to solve a murder, he uses whatever means he must to catch the killer - and he never gives up the chase. Set in Scotland ¿s largest city, Glasgow's often mean, gritty streets are witness to many gruesome and inflammatory crimes. With its grisly details and complex plots, you will witness why Taggart has become the longest running police detective drama on British television. Knife-Edge - Body parts wrapped in tartan blankets put Taggart and Livingstone on a trail fraught with dead ends to catch a killer. Death Call - A woman's body is found floating in the River Clyde and while all the evidence points to one young man, Taggart is not convinced he's guilty. The Killing Philosophy - Taggart heads the hunt for the masked "Glasgow Bowman," a psychopath whose terrifying attacks seem to lack motive. BFS Entertainment & Multimedia, Ltd. CAN. DVD. Take My Eyes. (2003). Color. 106 mins. (Spanish, Subtitled: English). Video Released Nov. 2006. Directed by Iciar Bollain. Beginning as an edge-of-your-seat noir thriller, a terrified Pilar hastily flees in the middle of the night with her young son as if her life depends on it. Reaching her Sister Ana's house, Pilar breaks down in turmoil. Banging on Ana's front door is Pilar's husband, Antonio who in a fit of rage screams for Pilar to return home. But Pilar holds tight. With Ana's support, Pilar is determined to save herself from Antonio's rage. Settling in with Ana, Pilar begins a new career, and finds a greater sense of self. Yet the very passionate Antonio is far from a one-dimensional brute, and the bond between Pilar and Antonio is deep- tangling together love, eroticism, and submissiveness. Their relationship has always been a potent mix of love and anger. Deeply in love, Pilar is persuaded to return to him, generating tremendous empathy and suspense as the couple struggles to rebuild their relationship. But there are no simple answers in this piercing multifaceted work. Take My Eyes tackles the difficult subject of domestic violence, broadening its cautionary tale with humor, lyricism, and a shattered love story. New Yorker Video. DVD. A Talk with Your Kids about Smoking: A Family Video for Grades 6-12, with Patrick Reynolds. Smoking. Health. Child Care And Parenting. Color. 38 mins. mins. (YA). Age: 12-18. G. Video Released Jul. 2006. Author Patrick Reynolds. Narrated by Patrick Reynolds. A Talk With Your Kids About Smoking follows CDC guidelines, and helps empower youth to stay tobacco and drug free. A multimedia presentation with award-winning TV spots, live talk, film clips, photos and graphics, the video also includes a live talk by Patrick Reynolds to 1,000 9th graders. Reynolds is a grandson of tobacco company founder R.J. Reynolds, but he severed all ties to Big Tobacco, after his father died from smoking. In the video he emphasizes the addictiveness of nicotine, opens students' eyes to deceptive tobacco advertising, and raises awareness about smoking in films. He motivates youth to resist peer pressure, providing a clear formula for saying no. Reynolds also empowers students to make more responsible choices about drugs and alcohol, in addition to tobacco. He stresses the importance of talking to others about problems, and not isolating. "Compelling and honest. the best and most up-to-date video on teen tobacco use. It has no weaknesses. In my opinion, it is the best video available."- Russell Henke, Evaluator of Health Education Materials for Montgomery County, Maryland"A powerful mix of great TV spots, live talk, photos, film clips and excellent graphics."- Linda Currier, Safe and Drug Free Schools. Talking about Writing, 2 DVD. Color. 60 min mins. (C). (gr. 3-5). Video Released Jan. 2006. Author JoAnn Portalupi, Ralph Fletcher. In Craft Lessons, Ralph Fletcher and JoAnn Portalupi write, "Writing conferences can be difficult to manage, and it's tempting to omit them from the workshop, but these one-to-one interactions are crucial. Writers need response, not only from their peers but from us as well."In this two-tape series we revisit Bailey's Elementary school on the outskirts of Washington, DC, to watch and listen as accomplished teachers of students in grades 3 through 5 confer with students about their writing. Tape 1, The Essentials of Conferring, covers a range of topics, including active listening, knowing your writers, management, predictable problems, and peer conferences. Tape 2, Refining Your Conference Skills, takes teachers deeper into the writing conference and shows how to help students build a "writer's toolbox," connect writing conferences to other parts of the workshop, raise the bar in a conference, and push your own learning by working with your colleagues. Taken together, these two tapes comprise an invaluable tool for becoming a more skillful writing teacher.Tape 1: The Essentials of ConferringTape 2: Refining Your Conference Skills. Stenhouse Pubs. Tears of Gold: Gold Star Wives & the Men They Lost - Inspiring True Stories of Women Who Triumph over Tragedy. Color. 51 mins mins. Age: 14-UP. Home. NR. Video Released Nov. 2002. Directed by Christopher Davenport. Editor Christopher Davenport. Produced by Wes Carey, Christopher Davenport. Executive Producer Andreasen Enterprises Inc. Staff, Galloping Pictures Inc. Staff. ?Tears of Gold? is the story of a wife?s courage, strength, and honor. It is the story of the devoted wife and the love for her family and the need to carry on without her husband. It is a story of hope and friendship.Imagine yourself with two small children and a third on the way. Suddenly your life is shattered when your husband dies. You?re left alone with just your children and unborn baby. What do you do? How do you survive? Unfortunately, this was an all too common story for military wives who lost their husbands, their best friends.?Tears of Gold? picks up where Hollywood leaves off. In so many war movies the wife is given a telegram telling her that her husband is dead and that?s where the story stops. But what does happen to the wife and the children? ?Tears of Gold? tells the inspirational stories of women who triumphed over tragedy.From the highly-acclaimed director, Christopher Davenport (?Mighty Mo?), and award-winning producer, Wes Carey (?Letters to the Wall?), comes the unforgettable story of the forgotten casualties of war, the wives and children of men who gave everything for their country. Galloping Pictures, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-893097-13-1(7)) $19.95.

Telegraph Avenue Street Calendar Live. (1994). Sociology. Color. 58 mins. Age: 12-UP. (gr. 7 up). Made-for-Video. Video Released Feb. 1994. Among the most noticeable of Berkeley's unusual events during the past year, was the emergence of The Naked Guy & a group of naked people such as Debby, Nina, Marty, Ken, Moby & others, who romped often unnoticed down Telegraph Avenue on an almost daily basis. On a more serious note, as B. N. Duncan & Ace Backwords capture the spirit of Telegraph Avenue in their Calendars, so filmmaker Claire Burch probes the soul of people on the street with her guerilla camera & open heart. The video ends with a Felliniesque "memorial" for Yume, one of two casualties of the Calendar's homeless men this year, the other being Cliff Mason, a street artist whose fierce drawings are included. Cliff died Christmas Eve, 1993, just after the calendar was out. Regent Pr. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-916147-53-2(3)) $24.95.

ConscienceHave you ever called in sick when you weren?t? Taken office supplies from work? Or forgotten to pay off a debt? It?s easy to see ourselves as victims of theft, but could we, in fact, also be perpetrators? J. John asks why our understanding of God?s law stops at violent forms of theft. There are plenty of other ways?we all pilfer time at our employer?s expense. He looks at the effect that cheating can have and offers advice on ?the right ways to prosper? and to be honest with God.Commandment 7 - How to Affair Proof Your RelationshipDo you struggle to keep your eye from wandering? Are you committing adultery? Of all the behavior that attacks a marriage, adultery is the most serious. The problem with our sex-saturated society is not that we think too much about sex but that we think about it so poorly. J. John looks at God?s parameters for relationships and explains how sexual guilt can be forgiven?so long as we change our ways. Vision Video. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-720-8(6)) $19.99.

Ten-Tape 1. Color. 70 mins. mins. Video Released Jun. 2003. A fresh look at the Ten Commandments (taken up in reverse order) and what they mean for us today.Commandment 10 - How to Find True ContentmentWhy is the grass always greener on the other side? Why do our yearnings always exceed our earnings? Why do we buy things we don?t need with money we don?t have to impress people we don?t even like? J. John considers why materialism can cause worry, weariness and despair. We find true contentment in being grateful for what we have, in focusing on people not possessions, in looking beyond what is temporary, and in being givers.Commandment 9 - How To Hold the TruthDo these sayings sound familiar? ?The check is in the mail?? ?Give me your number, and I?ll call you back?? ?One size fits all?? ?I just need two minutes of your time?? Our society has truth decay, so here is the sermon on the mouth! J. John exposes three specific areas of lying: gossip, slander and flattery. He argues that fear, anger, pride and selfishness are at the heart of the matter. Honesty, however, brings discretion, respect and mutual caring. Vision Video. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-719-2(2)) $19.99.

Test of Time. Color. 4 x 30 min mins. Video Released Aug. 2004. Jesus walked this earth a long time ago and uttered things like none other ever did before or since. His teachings had drawn more adherents than any other. But what about today in a scientific post-modern world? Do his teachings make any sense and offer any hope for the desperate problems of our world?This series approaches these vitally important questions by going to some of the most perplexing and challenging situations on our planet today. Host Robert Beckford takes us around the world for what has to be one of history?s toughest tests. We peer through the lens of the personal experiences of men and women who have dared to attempt to live out the teachings of Christ, sometimes under seemingly impossible circumstances. Four areas which affect all of us at some level are explored. These are areas where the teachings of Jesus are clear and where they can be put to the test. They are Commitment, Money, Inner Peace, and Forgiveness. A 32 pg. guide is included which has a program summary, background information, student worksheets, and further explorations for each of the four progams; Commitment, Money, Inner Peace, and Forgiveness. Vision Video. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-838-0(5)) $39.99.

That Day (Ce jour-là) (2003). Color. 105 mins. (French, Subtitled: English). Video Released Jun. 2006. Featuring Bernard Giraudeau, Elsa Zylberstein, Michel Piccoli. THAT DAY is world renowned filmmaker Raoul Ruiz's (TIME REGAINED) surrealist black comedy about greed, innocence, and the thin line separating madness from sanity. When Harald (Michel Piccoli), the patriarch of a high society family, can no longer pay the bills, he conspires to bump off his harmlessly mad daughter Livia (Elsa Zylberstein), the heir to his wife's vast fortune. To accomplish the deed, Harald arranges for the escape of Emil (Bernard Giraudeau - WATER DROPS ON BURNING ROCKS), a psychotic killer who has been confined in a nearby asylum. But a funny thing happens on the way to Livia's rendezvous with death: Emil develops a tender protectiveness towards her. Gradually, the pair form an unlikely union as Emil kills the remaining members of the scheming family in their own country estate. A critical hit at both the Sundance and Cannes Film Festivals, THAT DAY is pure farce, as bodies pile up while the heroine stays blissfully oblivious. Kino on Video. DVD. (UPC: 6 9845220403 1) $29.95.

That Man: Peter Berlin. 80 mins. NR. Video Released Jun. 2006. Featuring Peter Berlin, John Waters, Armistead Maupin, Wakefield Poole, Jack Wrangler, Guy Clark, Rick Castro, John F. Karr, Dan Nicoletta, Robert Boulanger, Robert W. Richards. With his trademark Dutchboy haircut and oh-so-tight trousers, Peter Berlin was the gay poster boy for the hedonistic and sexually liberated 1970s. Jim Tushinski's fascinating documentary traces Berlin's story from his childhood in wartime Germany to his current life in San Francisco. A talented artist, photographer, and filmmaker, Peter Berlin was his own biggest creation, a carefully constructed, unattainable icon awash in eroticism. Berlin's fans and friends, including John Waters, Armistead Maupin, Jack Wrangler, and Wakefield Poole offer their comments and stories, but Berlin himself, still looking remarkably boyish in his early 60s, provides the most illuminating commentary. Co-produced by Lawrence Helman and packed with an astonishing archive of photos and film clips, many never before seen, That Man: Peter Berlin is an entertaining and revelatory look at the man behind the famous image. Water Bearer Films. DVD. (UPC: 7 5925914084 4) $29.95.

Theresienstadt: Gateway to Auschwitz. Jewish History. World War, 1939-1945. Color. 57 mins. In 1941, the Nazis renamed the Czechoslovakian fortress town of Terezin "Theresienstadt," & used it as a ghetto & transit camp for Jewish deportees to Auschwitz - more than 140,000 Jews were interned there. Of the 15,000 who were under age 15 at the time, less than 100 survived. Theresienstadt was the "model" ghetto - as a result - art, music, drama, ballet & sports were all part of the inmates' daily routine. These varied cultural activities, in spite of the daily exposure to death, enabled the children to cling to the hope of a brighter future. Ergo Media, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56082-115-1(9), Order #: 622) $39.95.

Theresienstadt: Gateway to Auschwitz. World War, 1939-1945. 57 mins. More than 140,000 Jews were interned at the Czech fortress town of Terezin. This model ghetto was a transit camp for Auschwitz. Of the 15,000 in Theresienstadt who were under 15, less than 100 survived. Now the story of hope that was nourished by these children through a variety of cultural activities stands revealed in this prize-winning documentary. Facets Multimedia, Inc. VHS. Thermochemical Changes: Applying a Problem Solving Model to Energetics. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Illustrates multi-step energetics problems with various STS situations. Stresses the steps that should be applied: identify changes, relate known to unknown, calculate the answer & check the answer. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8612) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Building a Water Heater. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Compares the efficiency of different water heater designs using controlled & responding variables. The molar enthalpies of different fuels are determined & compared. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8616) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Energy from the Sun. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Photosynthesis & cellular respiration are examples of potential energy changes that can be calculated using Hess's law. Students calculate the molar enthalpy of combustion of hydrocarbons & compare it to the molar enthalpy of respiration. Lab demonstrations show how catalysts lower activation energy. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8615) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Hess's Law & Enthalpy Communication. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Shows three ways enthalpy changes can be communicated. Demonstrates Hess's Law using calorimetry, potential energy diagrams & as a shortcut using molar enthalpies of formation. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8608) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Introduction to Thermochemical Changes. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Defines energy & the fact that it can be converted from one form to another. Overview as it relates to physical, chemical & nuclear changes. The First Law of Thermodynamics is defined & applied, & the terms endothermic & exothermic are explained. Potential & kinetic energy definitions are illustrated & the concept that energy can be measured is introduced. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8600) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Kinetic & Potential Energy Changes During Changes to States of Matter. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Graphs & molecular animation illustrate the concept. Defines molar enthalpy terms for phase changes & discusses STS application. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8604) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Molar Enthalpies & Formation Reactions. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Three methods for expressing molar enthalpies are demonstrated. Explains enthalpy changes in terms of the rearrangement of chemical bonds & examines a method for graphically determining the enthalpy change for a reaction using known enthalpy changes for other reactions. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8607) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Molar Enthalpy of Solution. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Discusses energy transfer by assuming the energy released by one substance equals energy absorbed by another. Calorimetry experiments determine the amount of energy transferred when hot water is added to cold. Experiments determine molar heats of solution for endothermic & exothermic reactions. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8605) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Nuclear Changes. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Compares the energy of a phase change, chemical change & nuclear change. Explains the conversion of mass to energy using Einstein's equation. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8617) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Practical Applications of Calorimetry. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Shows how the energy content of food can be determined. Defines specific heat capacity. Students design & build a calorimeter & perform an experiment to determine the energy content of a peanut. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8603) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Risk-Benefit Analyses of Energy Sources. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). The advantages & disadvantages of fossil fuels are discussed, & alternate energy sources are reviewed. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8618) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: Specific Heat Capacity & Calorimetry. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Joule's experiment is duplicated to show how he determined the specific heat capacity of water. Experiments demonstrate that the heat released by one substance equals the heat absorbed by another & when applied to calorimetry, the specific heat of different substances can be determined. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8602) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: The Enthalpy of Phase Changes. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Determines the molar enthalpy of a phase change by assuming that the kinetic & potential energy changes of a substance undergoing a temperature & phase change are equal to the kinetic energy of the calorimeter. The molar enthalpies for condensation & fusion of water are determined calometrically, & various change enthalpy problems are solved. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8606) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemical Changes: The Molar Enthalpy of a Neutralization Reaction. Science-Chemistry. 29 mins. (Chemistry Connections Ser.: Unit 1). (YA). Determines the molar enthalpy of neutralization of sodium hydroxide using calorimetry. The experimental value is compared to the actual value determined using Hess's Law. United Learning. VHS, Single campus, incl. student activity guide. (Order #: 8609) $95.00; VHS, Multiple campus, incl. student activity guide. $195.00.

Thermochemistry. Science-Chemistry. Color. 16 mins. (Chemistry Ser.: The Standard Deviants Core Curriculum). Public performance. A concentrated analysis of thermochemistry explains precisely how temperature figures into chemical reactions. Section one covers endothermic and exothermic reactions, the standard enthalpy of formation and the workings of Hess's Law, while section two explains the concepts of heat capacity, molar heat capacity and specific heat. Films Media Group. VHS. (Order #: DFP10127) $69.95.

Thermochemistry. 17 mins. (YA). Video Released Jan. 2000. Produced by Cerebellum. Films Media Group. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-7365-1336-4(1)) $69.95.

Thermodynamics. Science-Physics. Color. 27 mins. (Physics Ser.: The Standard Deviants Core Curriculum). Public performance. Explains both Laws of Thermodynamics, providing details on isovolumetric, isobaric and adiabatic processes. Heat engines, with their hot and cold reservoirs, are also given their day in court, along with the concept of entropy, which is charged with disorderly conduct. Films Media Group. VHS. (Order #: DFP10287) $69.95.

Thermodynamics. 27 mins. (YA). Video Released Jan. 1999. Produced by Cerebellum. Films Media Group. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-7365-1481-1(3)) $69.95.

Thermometric Titrations. Science-Physics. Color. 20 mins. Group. The exothermicity of the reactions of ions in solution during titration is used to indicate the stoichiometry of the precipitates & complexes formed. When the temperature profile of the solution becomes level, the exothermic reaction is complete, since no additional heat of reaction is generated. Films Media Group. VHS. (Order #: AD-1070) $149.00; 3/4" U-Matic. $249.00, Rental 75.00.

Thermoregulation of the Newborn. (1999). Medical Education. Color. 56 mins. (CNE Speaker Ser.). NR. Video Released Jul. 1999. Contribution by Terese Verklan, Debora Simmons. Produced by JuDee Heasty. They Saved Hitler's Brain. B&W. 92 mins. NR. They Saved Hitler's Brain, aka Amazing Mr. H, aka Madmen of Mandoras, started production in the '50s, but it wasn't until the early '60s when some UCLA film students spliced in extra footage that it was ready for release. It seems Hitler's head is being kept alive on Mandoras, a tiny Caribbean island controlled by Nazis. Mr. H and his buddies are planning on spraying every major city with a deadly nerve gas, then take over the world. Only Professor John Coleman and his antidote stand in their way. When John is kidnapped, his son-in-law Phil, and daughter Kathy fly to his rescue. Mandoras is crawling with Krauts, but luckily Phil is helped by the Chief of Police and His Excellency. It's a hoot, especially scenes like the car chase, which bounces back and forth between day and night, and the finale, in which Adolf's head is caught in a fiery wreck and melts. Oh, the madness of it all!. Rhino Home Video. DVD. (Order #: R2 976645) $19.95.

Think Nonfiction!, 1 DVD. Color. 30 min mins. (C). (gr. 2-5). Video Released Jan. 2006. Author Anne Goudvis, Stephanie Harvey. Nonfiction rules! When you walk into a classroom awash in nonfiction, you know it-no quiet kids sitting at desks here. Instead we see them chattering a mile a minute over a photograph of the jaws of a great white shark or brimming with questions while poring over books about the underground railroad.Join Stephanie Harvey and Anne Goudvis, authors of Strategies That Work, in Barb Smith's reading workshop as her students begin to explore the wild and wooly world of nonfiction where merely getting the facts isn't enough. Nonfiction readers need to merge their thinking with the information to learn, understand, and remember it.In Think Nonfiction!the focus is on comprehension strategies for gaining information-specifically noticing new learning, asking questions, and determining importance. We watch Stephanie and Anne teach alongside Barb as she launches a nonfiction study and helps kids learn how to read for information, choose a topic, and do research. Stephanie does a mini-lesson to model how she stops and thinks when she encounters new information as she reads. Anne and Barb demonstrate how they read as partners and respond to new information. Then Barb, Anne, and Stephanie move about the room conferring with kids as they read a nonfiction article and use these strategies to enhance their understanding.The video culminates in a conversation among the three of them as they think through nonfiction instruction that supports kids as they read to learn and engage in independent research. Barb models her own research process and shares her kids' unique ways of organizing their thinking and bringing learning to life. An integral study guide makes this affordable resource a welcome addition to your professional library. Stenhouse Pubs. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-57110-487-8(9)) $95.00.
